Designing and Implementing a Curriculum Framework for ALL Children

with Jennifer Grisham-Brown

Co-author of

Blended Practices for Teaching Young Children in Inclusive Settings

As noted by the Division for Early Childhood (DEC) a framework for programs for young children is composed of four elements: assessment, scope and sequence, activities and instruction and progress monitoring. By examining these elements, teacher teams can identify what they are currently doing related to each element, what may be missing, and what may need to occur to ensure that all elements of the curriculum framework are of high quality.

DAY ONE

This workshop will consist of an overview of all the elements of a curriculum framework with in depth information on how to collect and use authentic assessment information to design individualized plans for young children who attend inclusive preschool programs.

8:30 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

Registration will begin at 8:00 a.m

Note: There will be two full-day sessions. The date for day two, to be held in spring 2009, will be announced in upcoming issues of the T-TAC Network News. To sign up for the newsletter, T-TAC Network News, go to www.ttac.odu.edu
